Nicolò Novelli is an Italian photographer who works internationally, mainly between Milan and Venice, cities that inspire his artistic compositions. Starting as a graphic designer and model in Europe and Asia, he channeled his passion for fashion and art into photography.

He has collaborated with prestigious brands such as Cartier and Chanel, with notable publications in magazines such as L'Officiel and Harper's Bazaar, also creating several prominent magazine covers.

His experimental and cinematic style, inspired by David Fincher movies and Caravaggio's painting, combines strong contrasts of light and shadow with evocative locations, creating narrative and emotionally intense images that transcend fashion to become true works of art.

Nicolo' does not limit himself to capturing beauty, but aims to evoke deep emotions, transforming each photograph into a journey through time, culture and art.
